

Grade 5

Finally, school is over. Summer is coming. All is good, awesome and perfect.

I passed with an A and I am very pleased. But, this year was not so great. They mixed our old class at the beginning of the school year, so I started the fifth grade with new students in a new class. At the beginning, that was bad because I missed my old classmates and my old teacher. I was scared and asked myself: What are the new teachers and classmates like? But, after some time, I became very happy. Now, I know a lot of nice people. Everything worked out well.

I am very happy with everything - with my class, teachers and with my success. But, still, I sometimes miss my old class. Hopefully, the summer will change that!
